A SAD LOSS TO COLUMBIA

Dr. B. F. Taylor, a Prominent Physician, Meets With an Accident, Death Following.

BURIED AT OLD TAYLOR CHAPEL.

One of the most lamentable deaths that have occurred in Columbia for many years was the passing of Dr. B. F. Taylor, last Wednesday morning at 10:45. The intelligence of his demise spread a gloom over the entire community, and it was hard to realize that the man who was apparently in his usual health, walking about town, twenty-four hours before, had gone to meet his reward.

The immediate cause of his death was an accident. He had gone out auto riding with his daughter-in-law, Mrs. James Taylor, and niece, Miss Lenna Thompson, Mr. Alvin Lewis being the chauffeur. On the Campbellsville pike, four miles out of town, and while Mrs. Taylor was receiving instructions in managing the machine, and while crossing an open bridge, the car became unmanageable and dropped over the structure, a distance of ten feet. The doctor was seriously hurt, but at the time it was not thought that his injuries would prove fatal; and as quickly as possible he was conveyed to his residence in this place. Physicians were with him the remainder of the day and through the night, doing all they could to locate the trouble and bring about relief.

Wednesday morning about 9 o'clock the patient realized that he could not live, and so stated to his family. From that hour he began sinking, the end coming at 10:45.

In his death not only those who were near and dear to him sustained a great loss, but the entire town and the county of Adair.

Dr. Taylor was born at Glenville in this county nearly sixty-three years ago, his birthday being on the 18th of November, his death being less than three months before that date.

At seventeen years of age he commenced the study of medicine under his uncle, Dr. U. L. Taylor, in this place, and after reading a year he entered the Louisville University, and in due course of time he graduated from the institution, and located at East Fork, Metcalfe county, where he soon built up a large and lucrative practice, and when he removed from that place to Columbia he was perhaps one of the best known men in Metcalfe county.

He was a second son of George M. and Mary J. McClain Taylor, who preceded him to the grave many years ago.

The deceased was not only a successful physician, but a fine business man, accumulating a considerable estate.

He was an enterprising man a liberal supporter to every move looking to the interest of Columbia. He was also a very kind man, and was ever ready to help the unfortunate.

His wife was Miss Mattie Pendleton, to whom he was married at East Fork when the deceased was twenty years old. One son, Dr. James Taylor, was born unto them—no other children. The father, mother and son were very devoted, and were never separated only when the physicians were out in their practice, hence the death of the father is heart rending to the wife and only child. No child could have fonder parents than the devotion manifested by Dr. Taylor and his companion for their daughter-in-law, Mrs. James Taylor, and she too has sustained an irreparable loss.

Besides the wife and son Dr. Taylor leaves three brothers, Thomas, Bruce, and Dr. W. S. Taylor and one sister, Mrs. McMaham, of Metcalfe county, all of whom have the deepest sympathy of this entire community.

When quite a young man Dr. Taylor made a profession of his faith in Christ, united with the Methodist Church, living consistently with his profession until the final dissolution.

The funeral services were held in the Methodist church, before a large audience of relatives and friends, at 11 o'clock a. m. Thursday. Introductory remarks, paying tribute, were made by Revs. W. R. Wagoner and W. C. Christie, and the discourse, which was beautifully worded, by Rev. S. G. Shelly, who had known the deceased for fourteen years.

After the discourse the congregation took a farewell look at the remains, the funeral procession starting immediately thereafter for the burying grounds, near Glenville.

The floral offerings were beautiful.

Card of Thanks.

Mrs. Mattie Taylor and Dr. and Mrs. James Taylor desire to extend their heartfelt thanks to the many who came to their assistance in the recent death of husband and father. The people about Cane Valley, near where the accident occurred, were especially kind and attentive, and also the residents of Glenville where the interment took place. Many of the friends of Dr. Taylor, deceased, who reside at East Fork, heard the intelligence of his demise with sorrow, and were here to pay their last respects to the one who had been their steadfast friend. The floral offerings which were sent in by lady friends of the family were beautiful and affectionately appreciated. Such kindnesses as were bestowed will never be forgotten by a weeping companion, son and daughter, and may God bless them all is the prayer of the stricken family.

One day last week, in Hutchinson, Kansas, Miss Dorothy Frazier, whose parents were W. E. and Anna E. Frazier, was happily married to Mr. E. W. Schade, a prominent young man of that city. The bride was born in Adair county, and lived here with her parents until she was about twelve years old. She is a highly cultured young woman and has held a responsible position since the death of her father which occurred about five years ago.

Died.

Attention is called to the "ad" of L. R. Cheif in today's paper.

SKETCHES.

W. R. Lyon.

The subject of this writing has been on the road longer than any other man who travels for groceries, in this section of the State, and perhaps is blessed with more vitality than any one of his competitors, and they are numerous. It is not uncommon for him to visit Columbia in the afternoon, work the town, then go to his home in Campbellsville to spend the night.

His many years on the road, perhaps twenty-five, has enabled him to build up a large acquaintance, calling his customers by their given names, and his friendly handshakes have built up a large trade. He is a native of this place, but has been a citizen of Campbellsville for more than thirty years. He had but little of this world's goods when he first became a commercial salesman, but his satisfactory manner of doing business, tied his friends the closer. Economical, but supporting his family comfortably, he has been enabled to "lay up for a rainy day" so to speak, and to-day he owns a delightful home and forty or fifty acres of meadow land in the suburbs of Campbellsville, and is also a partner in the large establishment of Buchanan, Lyon Company, in his home town. His residence and ground attached are valuable, and he has it well stocked. His grandfather, Robert Lyon, was one of the most courageous men in Adair county. He was not quarrelsome, having a good word for every person he met, but he was firm and determined when he undertook to carry a point, so much so, that when a young man he was nick named "Tiger," and it remained with him until death, which occurred at the age of eighty-six. Will Lyon's father, J. D. Lyon, inherited his father's disposition—kind and affable, but determined. So it is with W. R. Lyon. When he starts out to sell a certain amount of goods in a month, he works day and night until the goal is reached. All of Mr. Lyon's competitors have the utmost respect for him, due to courteous treatment. We have never heard one of Mr. Lyon's competitors speak only the kindest of words of him, hence he numbers his close friends by the hundreds. Mr. Lyon represents H. Wedekind & Co., Louisville, and the firm has not in its employ a more valuable man. May he live long, and continue to bring happiness to those to whom he is bound by ties of blood.

Killed Himself.

Near Moody, Texas, on the 9th of August, Vista Rice, who was a grandson of Phe Rice, who lives on the pike, near Columbia, took his own life by shooting. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rice. A love affair was the cause of the tragedy. Before taking his life he packed all the presents he had received from the young lady and directed in a note that they be sent to her. He also selected the plot for his burial.

Goes to Frankfort.

Mr. John B. Coffey, who worked incessantly for A. O. Stanley, in the latter's race for Governor, securing more votes for him in Adair county than any other one man, has been awarded as a guard at the penitentiary, and will go to Frankfort in a few days. He deserved a fat better position, and may yet be promoted.

Auction Sale.

Saturday, September 2, 1916. One horse mule, 8 years old, one horse 12 years old, four stacks good hay, one mowing Machine, one Hay Rake, one extra good milch cow and calf, and all kinds of Farming Implements. All of my household and kitchen furniture. Also the farm and growing crop for sale.

J. F. Christie, Dulworth, Ky.

Dr. Frank Cheek, of Danville, will preach at the Presbyterian church next Sunday forenoon and evening. All the members are expected to be present, and a cordial invitation is extended to the public.

Items from Hatcher.

Five and one-half acres of land belonging to the Turner heirs, Campbellsville, was divided into lots and placed on sale Thursday. Phillips & Rogers were promoters of the deal. They divided the plot into 55 lots, 25 feet front. The total sale amounted to $10,587.50. All of the lots were sold to people of the town with the exception of thirty, which Col. R. L. Faulkner, Coburg, purchased. This property is in the heart of the populated section, and is the last desirable plot to be offered. The purchasers of the lots constitute the best citizenship of the town, and before long several will begin to erect modern residences. Our county takes a great deal of interest in the upbuilding of its capital.

Our corn prospects are unusually good. Tobacco is better than average years. Hogs and cattle are scarce, but a few now realize more than in former years. Watermelons of the very best quality are plentiful and bringing good prices. Every one is satisfied except pie hunters and chronic grumbler.

We hope prejudice and ignorance will not get the better judgment of the voters at the coming election.

A Green River Farm for Sale.

14 miles northeast of Columbia, near old Neatsville, 50 acres rich River Bottom land. 50 acres of fine Poplar and White Oak Timber, never been cut over, after timber is removed would make an ideal Ridge Farm, as land is very rich. W. T. Shearer.

Ellis Workman, Deputy United States Marshal and a posse, raided a small still in Green county, near Fry, last Tuesday night. Everything was ready to start, a fire to have been made, that night. It was to have been operated by Wm. Estes, who was arrested and brought before U. S. Commissioner, T. C. Davidson, this place, Wednesday. He waved an examination, and he will be held, unless he makes bond, until the October term of Federal court, in Louisville. The Marshal also brought in Alonzo Johnston, of color, of Cane Valley. He was charged with selling and was held over.

He has had experience in the machine shops, and as an automobile expert he is not surpassed in this part of the State. About five years ago he erected a wireless receiving station near his home, which was a working success. Recently he has erected a wireless of a more substantial type, his aerial being erected on a gaspipe stanchion 108 feet high. The outfit lacks but a few minor additions of being complete. him from slavery.

Matrimony frequently resem-

As a rule the man who seeks view; the woman who does so usually has two or three.

TAKE NOTICE.

The price of paper has reached a point that threatens the destruction of the average county weekly with no indications of a change for the better in the near future. To meet the additional cost is a proposition for every publisher, and while I have never squealed under unfavorable conditions nor attempted to reduce the service of The News, yet, under present unprecedented cost, I am bound by every principle of self preservation to reduce the expense or increase the revenue of the business. With no intention of reducing the size or service I have decided to ask every one indebted to this office to pay the amount due, and those who fail to do so after receiving a statement need not expect to receive The News until arrearage is paid. Statements will be mailed in the near future, and unless payment is received promptly the paper will be discontinued. This policy may prevent curtailment of service or an advance in the subscription. As conditions now exist no one can do a credit business, for at best, a county paper has a rough and uncertain road to travel. If I get the product of your toil I should pay for it, and if you get The News you should do likewise. You now have a chance to help keep The News doing what it was created to do—to work for the best interest of this part of the State, or you may withhold from it its just dues and further embarrass it. One thing certain, no pay, no paper.

POLITICAL INFORMATION.

During the Roosevelt administration when the country was in the grasp of Wall street, one of the worst monetary panics ever experienced engulfed the nation in almost hopeless ruin. Fortunes were swept away, men were thrown out of employment, bread lines were established, credit was denied, and a season of hard times was realized that those who suffered from it will never forget. There was no good reason for the panic other than some four or five men had the power to tie up the money of the country for their own aggrandizement. Though there have been occasions during the Wilson administration when panics might have been thrown had the same men been in control of the finances, none has occurred because the federal reserve act has stripped them of the dangerous power and placed the fiscal affairs directly in control of the government. This achievement alone ought to insure, and doubtless will, the re-election of President Wilson, even if there were not scores of other lasting benefits from the constructive legislation enacted by a patriotic Congress. The fact that Wall street is backing Candidate Hughes will make the rest of us more earnest for the reelection of Woodrow Wilson.

After discoursing at length on the beauties of a protective tariff in his speech at Portland, Ore., Candidate Hughes branded as a traitor to his country the man who would seek to build up a private fortune at the public expense. Yea verily, but nearly all of the swollen fortunes are due to the Republican theory of a protective tariff, and the fact that most of the beneficiaries of the system are putting up their ill gotten gains to elect Mr. Hughes shows that they want a return to it. They are traitors, of course, but as long as human nature remains as it is so long will men take advantage of a law which enables them to enrich themselves at the expense of others. Mr. Hughes does not even fool fools by his exhibition of virtue.

With the bitter fight between Sampson and Kirk during the campaign and the institution of a contest by the latter for the nomination, a state of affairs is shown in the Seventh Appellate district which augurs for Democracy. Sore spots have been made that it is said cannot be healed and it is believed that Judge Sampson will be slaughtered in a number of the strongest Republican counties. The district is normally Republican by 10,000 majority, but with a strong organization by the Democrats it is believed that it can be overcome by the Democratic nominee, Judge J. M. Robinson, who is an able lawyer and a very popular man of Pike county. The prize is worth striving for and the Democrats are going to make it with great confidence.

HIGH WAGES ON AMERICAN ROADS*Railroad Payroll Records Made Public by the Carriers.*NATIONAL INQUIRY URGED

Managers Offer to Leave Question of $100,000,000 Wage Demands to an Impartial Federal Tribunal to Prevent Disaster of a Nation-wide Strike.

New York.—What is probably the most elaborate study of wages ever made in any industry has just been completed by the National Conference Committee of the railways.

For six months railway accountants throughout the country have been engaged in collecting the payroll records to show the actual wage payments to every individual employee among the 300,000 engineers, conductors, firemen and brakemen now voting on a national strike for a new wage scale.

That these employees are one of the highest paid groups of workers in any industry is disclosed by the summary made public today by the railroad managers.

The average yearly wage payments to all Southern train employees (including those who worked only part of the year), as shown by the 1915 payrolls, were:

Passenger.	Freight.	Yard.
Engineers	$2,144	$1,712
Conductors	1,723	1,488
Firemen	1,096	865
Brakemen	1,013	845

Three-quarters of these men (including those who put in a full year's service), earned these wages:

Engineers (road), $1,455 to $3,983; (yard), $1,156 to $2,424.

Conductors (road), $1,353 to $2,696; (yard), $1,055 to $1,740.

Firemen (road), $640 to $1,652; (yard), $406 to $1,302.

Brakemen (road), $755 to $1,854; (yard), $734 to $1,405.

For the whole country the average wages of three-quarters of the employees were:

Passenger.	Freight.	Yard.
Engineers	$2,067	$1,892
Conductors	1,850	1,719
Firemen	1,203	1,117
Brakemen	1,095	1,013

The railroads have considered every man whose name appears on the January and December payrolls as an employee for a year, no matter how little service he performed in the other ten months. It is pointed out by the managers that these averages are, in consequence, an understatement of the earning power of these employees.

An Appeal to the Public.

The National Conference Committee, in making these wage figures public, says:

"Do you believe in arbitration or industrial warfare?

"The train employees on all the railroads are voting whether they will give their leaders authority to tie up the commerce of the country to enforce their demands for a $100,000,000 wage increase.

"The railroads are in the public service—your service. This army of employees is in the public service—your service.

"You pay for rail transportation $3,000,000,000 a year, and 44 cents out of every dollar from you goes to the employees.

"A $100,000,000 wage increase for men in freight and yard service (less than one-fifth of all employees) is equal to a 5 per cent advance in all freight rates.

"The managers of the railroads, as trustees for the public, have no right to place this burden on the cost of transportation to you without a clear mandate from a public tribunal speaking for you.

"The railroads have proposed the settlement of this controversy either under the existing national arbitration law, or by reference to the Interstate Commerce Commission. This offer has been refused by the employees' representatives.

"Shall a nation wide strike or an investigation under the government determine this issue?"

HIGHEST WAGES, LOWEST RATES.

American railroads today pay the highest wages in the world, out of the lowest rates in the world, after having set down to capital account the lowest capitalization per mile of all great countries of the world. No other occupation and no other employer of labor in the country can match this record.—James J. Hill.

GREAT R. R. STRIKE IS THREATENED*Transportation Tie-up Would Paralyze Business.*FARMERS TO FACE DANGER.

Could Not Market Crops and Losses Would Run Into Hundreds of Millions—With Factories Unable to Operate Wage-earners Would Suffer.

From the viewpoint of the public it is an intolerable situation when any group of men, whether employees or employers, whether large or small, have the power to decide that a great section of country * * *, shall undergo great loss of life, unspeakable suffering and loss of property beyond the power of description, through the stoppage of a necessary public service. This, however, is the situation which confronts us as a nation.—From the Report of the Eastern Engineers' Arbitration Board (1912) signed by Charles R. Van Hise, Oscar Straus, Frederick N. Judson, Albert Shaw, Otto N. Elitz and Daniel Willard.

As a result of the demands for more wages which the train service employees of the railroads have been pressing upon the transportation lines, the country is face to face with the possibility of the greatest strike and the most serious industrial catastrophe in its history. The engineers, conductors, firemen and brakemen on practically all the railroad lines have voted to place their entire interests in charge of a few leaders within their organizations, and to give these leaders authority to call a strike if they wish to do so.

What such a strike would mean to the American people cannot be set forth in mere facts and figures. It can be dimly imagined by those who realize what an intimate and vital part transportation plays in every industrial activity of the country.

Cities Would Face Starvation.

There is scarcely a person in any part of the land who would not be immediately affected if the millions of busily turning wheels on our nearly three hundred thousand miles of railway were to stop for a single day. If the tie-up continued for a week, the blow to the industry of the country would be greater than that caused by any panic of recent history. To the big cities of the country, and particularly to the cities of the eastern seaboard, it would mean a cutting off of food supplies that would place the inhabitants virtually in a state of siege.

In the case of many food products these cities do not carry on hand a stock sufficient to feed their people for more than a week, and in the case of some, such as milk and fresh vegetables, supplies are replenished daily.

The stoppage of transportation therefore, would mean suffering and want to these city dwellers, and if continued for long would threaten many of them with actual starvation.

Vast Loss to Farmers.

To the farmers of the country a general railroad strike would be a catastrophe, only less serious. Cut off from his market, the farmer could not move his produce, and the price of grain and other staples would be quickly cut in two, while the market value of more perishable articles would disappear entirely. The strike would make it extremely difficult to harvest crops in many sections. It would make the disposal of the crops impossible, and would inflict losses amounting to hundreds of millions of dollars upon the farmers of the country.

The great industrial plants of the country would soon be forced to close down following the declaration of a strike because they could not obtain supplies needed for their operation, nor could they ship their finished products to market. Their plants would soon be idle, and millions of men would be thrown out of work.

With the income of practically every class of citizens either seriously cut down or suspended entirely, merchants would transact little business, because there would be few purchasers. In short, the industrial activities of the whole country would be virtually paused from the moment the railroads ceased to operate. The injury to the railway companies and to the striking employees would be enormous, but it would be infinitesimal compared with the staggering loss that would fall upon the general public.

LONG HOURS A RARITY.

Only Once in Five Years Does Average Trainman Exceed Legal Limit.

That long hours in train service have been reduced to a minimum is shown by a report issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Only one employee in five on the average last year was compelled to remain on duty more than sixteen hours during any one day in the whole year. Stated in another way, the chance of an engineer or trainman remaining on duty beyond this prescribed limit was reduced to once in five years.

The total number of cases of excess service from all causes reported to the commission was only 61,247 during the year ending June 30, 1915, as compared with 137,439 in 1914 and 270,827 in 1913, and with rare exceptions these represented cases recognized as due to unavoidable causes.

Statistics on this subject are collected by the Interstate Commerce Commission under the national hours-of-service law. Every time a train is so delayed by a blizzard, washout or other cause that any part of the train crew is on duty longer than sixteen hours the railroad company must report the occurrence to the commission, giving the names of the individual employees concerned and a full statement of the cause for the excess service.

For several years the railroads and the Interstate Commerce Commission have been co-operating in efforts to prevent the keeping of employees on duty for long periods. The reduction of nearly 80 per cent. in such cases which has been brought about in three years shows that the working of men for long stretches of continuous service has practically disappeared except in a few cases of unavoidable delay.

RAILWAY MAIL PAY:

Congress Directs Interstate Commerce Commission to Investigate Subject.

Washington.—The annual Post Office appropriation bill recently passed by Congress contains a clause directing the Interstate Commerce Commission to take up for investigation, report and the fixing of rates the system of payment to the railroads for carrying mail. The commission is authorized to test the relative merits of payment by weight and by space.

The railroads have long contended that they were underpaid for this service and that they were losing millions of dollars a year under the system of payment now in effect. It was felt that the Interstate Commerce Commission, on account of the information at its command regarding all phases of railroad operation, is in the best position to determine the merits of the case.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

Facts About the Dead Sea

The Dead Sea is an island lake on the north east border of Palestine, occupying a part of the deepest chasm in the face of the earth, caused after the Eocene period by the earth movement, which resulted in the raising of the whole aegion out of the eas.

The earliest reference to the Dead Sea are the biblical narrative of Tot and Abraham, who call it the Salt Sea; its waters containing a percentage of salt. The sea having no outlet this percentage increases with years. It is practically impossible for a human body to sink in the waters of the Dead Sea, owing to this fact. Owing principally to a large proportion of chloride and bromide of magnesia fish cannot live in the waters of the Dead Sea, and the absence of sea water has led to the story that no bird can fly across the Dead Sea and live.

BUSINESS ENTRY TO AVERT STRIKE

Ask Congress to Direct U. S. Inquiry Into R. R. Wages.

FOR PEACEFUL SETTLEMENT

Members of United States Chamber of Commerce Vote Overwhelmingly In Favor of Letting Interstate Commerce Commission Adjust Controversy.

Washington.—In order to ascertain the position of the business men of the nation on the controversy between the railroads of the country and the unions of train service employees, which was precipitated by the demand of the latter for an increase in wages that would amount to $100,000,000 a year, the United States Chamber of Commerce recently submitted the matter to a vote of all its members. They were asked to express their opinion as to whether the dispute should be allowed to take its course with the possibility of a great strike that would tie up all the transportation lines throughout the country and paralyze all business, or whether they would favor the adoption to a joint resolution by the two branches of congress directing the Interstate Commerce Commission to investigate and pass upon the matter.

The vote received was a very large one and represented business organizations in every part of the country. The result was overwhelmingly in favor of placing the matter in the hands of the Interstate Commerce Commission, 984 $\frac{1}{4}$  votes being cast in favor of this course and only 28 $\frac{1}{4}$  against it. The result showed clearly that the business interests of the country are unalterably against permitting the transportation lines to be tied up by a national railroad strike that would paralyze the commerce of the country and inflict enormous losses on all classes of citizens.

Chairman Wheeler of the Committee in charge of the matter for the Chamber of Commerce appeared before the representatives of the railroads and their employees at their conference in New York in June. He announced the result of the Committee's inquiry among the business men of the country and urged both parties to the dispute to get together and adopt the course suggested. As a result the committee of managers representing the railroads submitted a proposal that the whole subject be placed before the Interstate Commerce Commission as requested by the representatives of the business interests. As an alternative they offered to submit the demands to arbitration under the Federal law. Both offers were refused by the union leaders, who announced that they would go back to their unions and get authority to declare a strike. This they have since been doing.

Meanwhile a resolution has been introduced in Congress directing the Interstate Commerce Commission to make an investigation of railroad wages. This resolution is now awaiting action. It is believed here that if nothing further is done by Congress or by the parties to the wage dispute to bring about a peaceful settlement the business interests of the country, through the United States Chamber of Commerce, or some other organization, will appeal to the Government to take some direct and decisive action to prevent the destruction of national prosperity by a strike on all the railroad lines.

TRAINMEN'S HIGH WAGES.

When I note from the reports made to the Interstate Commerce Commission that these men receive average yearly wages 50 per cent higher than those of all other railway employees, and practically double those of the average American wage-worker, it occurs to me that they at least have less cause for complaint than most others. When I consider that the average locomotive engineer has an income of over $2,000 a year, and that most of the engineers who have been long in service make from $2,000 to $3,000 a year, and when I compare their hours, labor and responsibilities with those of the average small merchant, farmer or doctor, whose income is far less, it seems that in all fairness they are well paid.—John V. Farwell, Chicago Merchant.

TANLAC'S GOOD NAME VALUABLE

Thousands of Men and Women Are Daily Testifying to Merits.

A good reputation is the best thing in life and a good reputation is worth as much to a medicine as it is to an individual.

The truth of this is clearly brought out by the fact that business men, professional men, artisans, and women in all walks of life whose common, practical judgment guides them in all acts and conclusions, are daily testifying to the merits of Tanlac.

"Tanlac" has become a household word. Its success is unprecedented and its fame is based very solidly on its accomplishments in nearly two millions of homes. Tanlac is nature's own remedy. It is purely a vegetable compound, made from roots, herbs, flowers and barks. The ingredients for this wonderful remedy are gathered in the remotest parts of the world. From the far north woods to Argentina, below the equator; in Russian Asia, the Alps, Pyrenees, on the sunny shores of Italy. From Brazil, Sumatra, Peru, the West Indies, and the slopes of our own timber topped Rocky Mountains come the ingredients that, under the personal direction of the noted chemist, Joseph Von Trimbach, are compounded into Tanlac.

Tanlac acts like magic against stomach trouble, gas fermentation, dizziness, bloating, and heavy distressed feeling after meals. It attacks poisons in the blood, corrects diseased conditions of the liver and kidneys, and restores them to normal condition.

Tanlac works wonders where men and women suffer from catarrhal troubles, which may be indicated by any one of the following symptoms: coughing of mucus, offensive breath, dizziness, loss of flesh, ringing in the head or ears, headaches, pains in the side or stomach regions, indigestion, bloating of the stomach, constipation or dyspepsia.

Tanlac is an invigorant, appetizer, tonic and builder of tissues. It cleanses the entire system of wastes and vitalizes the blood and brings back color to the cheeks and sparkle to the eyes.

Tanlac is now being especially introduced in Columbia at the Page & Hamilton drug store, where the Tanlac Man daily explains its merit to hundreds of men and women.
